CALIFORNIA RESIDENTIAL PROPERTY BILL OF RIGHTS

The largest single investment most consumers make is their home and related property. In order to best protect these assets, it is wise for consumers to understand the homeowner's insurance market. Consumers should consider the following:

Read your policy carefully and understand the coverage and limits provided. Homeowner's insurance policies contain sublimits for various coverages such as personal property, debris removal, additional living expense, detached fences, garages, etc.

Keep accurate records of renovations and improvements to the structure of your home, as it could affect your need to increase your coverage.

Maintaining a list of all personal property, pictures and video equipment may help in the case of a loss. The list should be stored away from your home.

Comparison shop for insurance, as not all policies are the same and coverage and prices vary.

Take time to determine the cost to rebuild or replace your property in today's market. You can seek an independent evaluation of this cost.

An agent or insurance company may help you establish policy limits that are adequate to rebuild your home.

Once the policy is in force, contact your agent or insurance company immediately if you believe your policy limits may be inadequate.

A consumer is entitled to receive information regarding homeowner's insurance. The following is a limited overview of information that your insurance company can provide:

- The California Residential Property Insurance Disclosure.
- An explanation of how your policy limits were established.
- The insurance company's customer service telephone number for underwriting, rating and claims inquiries.
- A written explanation for any cancellation or nonrenewal of your policy.
- A copy of the insurance policy.
- In the event of a claim, an itemized, written scope of loss report prepared by the insurer or its adjuster within a reasonable time period.

- In the event of a claim, a copy of the Unfair Practices Act and, if requested, a copy of the Fair Claims Practices Regulations.

A consumer is also entitled to select a licensed contractor or vendor to repair, replace or rebuild damaged property covered by the policy.
